

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CNE, INC ACQUIRES CTRx

CHARLESTON, SC

JANUARY 28, 2010

Roger Swanson, President and CTO, of Computer Network Enterprises (CNE), is pleased to announce the acquisition by CNE of Computer TechRx (CTRx) with Derick Siebert, President of CTRx and the CTRx Team joining CNE.

As part of CNE, Derick Siebert will continue to furnish CTRx clients reliable IT services and also offer the CNE advanced Total Care IT Solution.

Roger Swanson said, "We're very pleased with the opportunity this provides us to extend our services to clients throughout the Charleston and surrounding areas. CTRx is a well respected company and we're excited to have them as part of our team."

CNE was founded by Roger Swanson in 1998 and is a Total Care IT Solution and Managed Computer Network Services provider. CNE is a member of the Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce as a Lead Investor company and a member of the national HTG Peer Group (recently achieved "Peer Group of the Year"). CNE has affiliations and certifications from key IT software and hardware providers and offers support across several cities in our state.

The CNE Support Teams design, implement, and support IT networks. Through its Total Care Managed Services, CNE provides 24x7 monitoring, updates, and maintenance, with backup and disaster recovery. The strategic combination of these two IT network companies accelerates the continued growth of CNE and gives CTRx's clients access to the additional enhanced IT service offerings of CNE. Roger Swanson or Derick Siebert can be reached for comment at CNE Corporate office:
